WHAT IS THE MOST INCLUSIVE EVENT AWARD?

This is to encourage clubs to ensure their events are diverse in the students they attract, cater to a wide variety of interests, and provide an inclusive atmosphere. This year (2021), this award will be voted upon by the student body in way of a survey. You will need to nominate your event to be in the running to win this award!

On the 31st of August 2021, the UWA Photography Club ran it's semesterly studio shoot at Huzzard Studios in the Perth CBD. The event is free for members. This event was also run on the 26th of March semester 1. Attendance is usually somewhere between 15 to 25 people.

This event consists of hiring out several professional studio spaces in the Huzzard Studio's building equipped with full lighting set-ups, backdrops and props in order to inspire great creative freedom from our club members in the event.

This semesterly event caters to all photographers from all levels and backgrounds, as we bring along several DSLR professional cameras for our members to use in the studio to take their own professional grade shots if they don't have access to a camera of their own.

Along with all the equipment provided by the venue, we also provide models for the shoots free of charge and in return they receive a range of different photographs taken by our club members to use for their portfolios or whatever they choose.

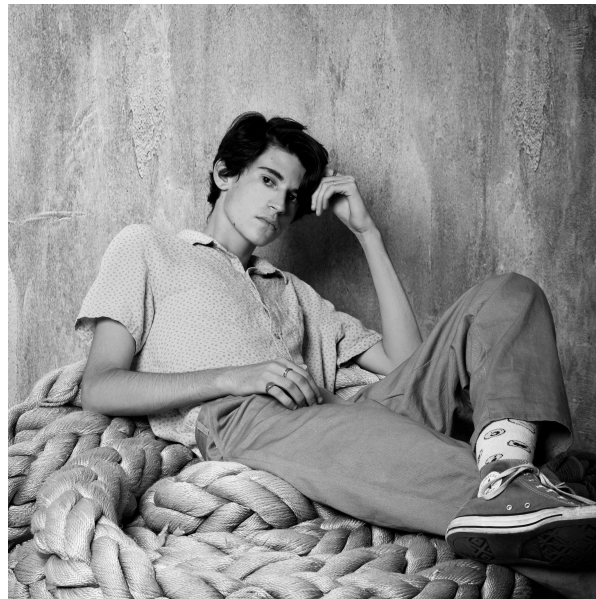

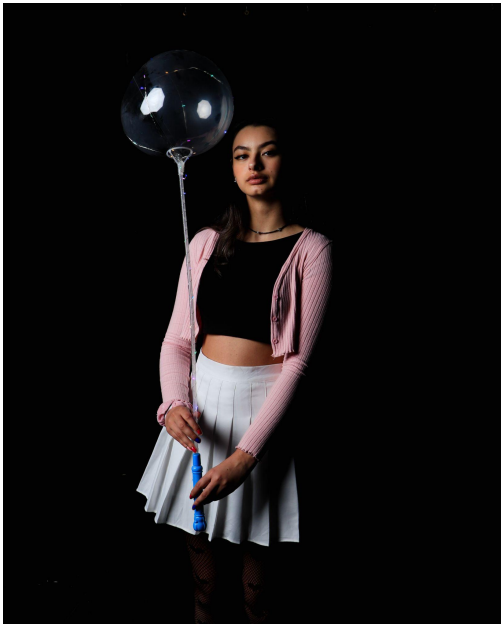

The event is run twice yearly, or once each semester and produces amazing quality work each time from our club members, with valuable experience gained from the event and a great expression of self and creativity through the art that comes from it.

The spaces we book for the studio space are open and inclusive to all our members, and we always ensure to book wheelchair-accessible studio spaces for our event.

We try to source a range of diverse models for the event, from a range of backgrounds and gender identities as the event is a safe space for everyone in the club and committee who wish to gain experience in a professional studio space and express themselves through the creation of art.

The opportunity for everyone in the UWA Photography community to gain access to professional photography direction in a professional studio space can be costly, but we provide this free to members to ensure that cost does not remain a barrier to creativity in the community.

Here's some examples of the work created at our first semester Studio Shoot:
